It gives me great pleasure to welcome Dr. Suman Jayadev to the group of Associate Editors of Neurology[®] Genetics. She is a board-certified neurologist and Assistant Professor of Neurology at the University of Washington. She runs an adult neurogenetics clinic at the University of Washington and is also the Clinical Core Leader of the University of Washington Alzheimer Disease Research Center. Her neurogenetics laboratory focuses on inflammatory mechanisms related to neurodegeneration.

Dr. Jayadev has taken over from Dr. Jeffery Vance who has provided his expertise on the genetics of neurodegenerative diseases for the first 5 years of the journal. I want to thank Jeff for his tireless efforts, insights, collegiality, and friendship.
